

The Friendly Sheep

BY ASHLYN

Once upon a time there was a friendly sheep. One time she went for a walk in the woods. After awhile a unicorn came to say hello, then it went passed and said “you are ugly”. Then it went away. Along came a pig and pushed her over. Then came a rabbit and helped her up. She said “I better get home now because I don’t want any more trouble”, and that is what she did. After another while she went for a walk and saw the ones that bullied her. She went to them and made them nice.
